The first round of the District Tournament being held at the new Dixon High School gymnasium, and of the 16 teams starting in it, 8 teams or a rather select group are left. These will battle away to see which 4 will get to compete in the semi-finals. Morrison and Prophetstown have displayed some real basketball so far in the tournament and its winner will probably come from a contest between these two teams. Sterling played a rather good game against Amboy, having in her second string most of the time, but even at that Amboy was unable to offer much competition and her real test will be when she hits the hard fighting Morrison outfit today.

The saddest part of the afternoon performance was the game between Dixon and Rock Falls with Dixon completely off form and Rock Falls playing the game of their lives, the locals were completely outfought and outwitted to the tune of 15 to 5. Hunsberger opened the scoring for the visitors on a free throw which was soon followed up by another one on the part of Wilkins and a field goal by Forehand. The purple and white aggregation were unable to get the hoop and the score stood 0 to 6 at the end of the first quarter. Before 2 minutes of the second quarter had passed by Vorhis took a shot from the side of the basket and was fouled. He caged the hoop and besides the basket counting he was given two free throws of which he accounted for one. Lebre was then fouled and made his free throw to tie the score 4 to 4. Just before the whistle blew Hunsberger accounted for a floor shot and Rock Falls again took the lead, which she retained for the rest of the contest, 6 to 4. In the third quarter, Forehand caged a free throw and a field goal, and Hunsberger added another floor shot to his list. Since Dixon was idle throughout the session the score stood 11 to 4 in favor of Rock Falls.

In the last quarter the locals made a point on a successful trip to the foul circle by Cortright, while their opponents accounted for 3 more tallies. The game ended with the locals being defeated by the sorrowful score of 14 to 5. Vorhis played a good game for Dixon while Forehand was high point man for the victors with a total of 8 points. The teams lined up as follows:

Lee Center had been defeated but twice during the past season but both of these times were by Paw Paw. Paw Paw still furthered their good work and caused the Lee Center outfit to again taste defeat 20 to 14. Paw Paw opened the scoring and were leading 6 to 0 at the end of the first quarter. In the next period neither team was very active but the score was increased to 10-5. The third quarter found Lee Center remaining idle and their opponents increased their lead by 5 more points. It looked like Paw Paw was to have a complete walk away but Lee Center staged a rally and the score was shaved down to 20 to 14.

The Ohio-Franklin Grove arrangement proved to be a very slow affair. The only player of any ability on the Franklin Grove quintet was Phillips, who was caging his shots from all angles, while Etheridge accomplished the same principles for his team. Ohio took her good old time but when she broke she broke with a bang and a basket would usually be the result. The contest ended with Franklin Grove being trimmed 24 to 14.

The whole contest was Sterling this or Sterling that. Amboy didn't even have a chance against their opponent's second team and were forced to take a back seat 32 to 10. Amboy had a lot of trouble keeping from fouling their opposition and in the third quarter lost Dewey and Reilly on personal fouls. Schunerman showed he had plenty of fight and in his shooting eye under control. In the few minutes he was in the game he scored 3 field goals and a free throw. Reilly was the other star, making half his team's total points.

Tampico has a pretty fair team and after much see-sawing back and forth of the score took the lead at the start of the second half and the nearest Lyndon could come to winning was in their late rally to raise the score to 14 to 12. Tampico became ashamed of themselves and immediately caged the hoop for two floor shots in quick succession. They also tightened up on their defense and Lyndon was forced from the tournament 18 to 12.

| Both Fulton and Morrison had real teams and it was only after a fast exhibition of eye-opening basketball that Morrison was able to down their rivals 16 to 10. Filkins, forward for Morrison, was their main player. With much grace and ease he would work the ball through the Fulton defense time and again for shots at the basket. Decker was high point man for Fulton caging the hoop twice from difficult angles. Let it be stated now that when Morrison hit this opposition it knew it had been in a real fight. CALL FOR DRY
DEFENSE NEXT
IN WASHINGTONDry Women of Nation
Will Have "Day in Court" Next Week

By PAUL R. MALLON

United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, March 7.—(UP)—A summons to dry women of the country to rally around the table of the house judiciary committee here next week in defense of prohibition, was issued here today.

Next Wednesday and Thursday will be "Ladies' Days" in the prohibition hearings, dry leaders announced the idea being to put "pepper and ginger" into the dry presentation. Leaders of the W. C. T. U. from the various states, welfare workers and professional women are among those being called. Their names will be divulged Monday by Dr. Edwin C. Dinwiddie, local prohibitionist. Among those promised are Commander Evangelical Booth of the Salvation Army, Miss Cora Lane Wilson, founder of the "Moonlight Schools" and Mrs. Nellie Burger, president of the Missouri W. C. T. U.

Men have held the floor in the first two days of the dry defense which recessed late yesterday until Wednesday. Only one woman has appeared. Mrs. Ruth W. K. Strawbridge, Philadelphia society matron who conducted a secret poll of the social register which showed, she said, a majority of 1337 to 247 in favor of abolishing liquor from the best tables.

The men came from the ranks of industrialists, labor, the clergy, and the agriculturalists. All have pictured the benefits of prohibition to their respective occupations. Yards of statistics have been cited to dispute the claim of the wets that prohibition failed to bring economy, promote health and diminish drinking. The figures, however, have caused a serious split among wet and dry committee members.

The unusual spectacle of a chairman of a committee being disappointed by some of his committee members and the audience, came late yesterday when dry Reps. Hickey, Rep. Ind. and Sparks, Rep. Kan., protested the questioning by Chairman Graham, Rep. Pa., an anti-prohibitionist. The crowd applauded their protests while some other members of the committee stood by Graham.

The hearings may be prolonged because the dries are protesting that the wet committee members take up too much time with questioning. Graham announced that none of the dry witnesses would be left unheard, no matter how much time is required.

"DEATH CHAIR" IN STEGE OFFICE IS
FATAL TO GUNMENOf Fifteen To Sit In It,
Thirteen Are Dead:
Oberta The Last

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Gang and calls its the "death chair." In it, Chief of Detectives John Stege seats the gangsters and racketeers he calls into his office. Fifteen have sat in this chair—thirteen have been slain in the many ways gangsters do away with enemies.

The last to die was John Oberta. "The Dingbat," who sold beer with Joe Salts and who vainly sought to combine gangland and politics "back of the yards."

John Scalise and Albert Anselmi, two henchmen of "Scarface Al" Capone, were two others of the thirteen. Their bullet riddled bodies were found on a lonely northern Indiana road; they were killed, police believe, by the George (Bugs) Moran gang in retaliation for the St. Valentine's day massacre in 1929.

Then there was Rocco Maggio, extortionist, elegant; Michael Riley, William Clifford and Thomas McElligott, three of the "Four Horsemen," west side bad boys; all of these and more who heard Stege warn them to quit the business before gangland got them.

Only two who sat in this chair and heard this warning are still alive—Jim Genna, survivor of the "Gargantuan Genna," and George (Red) Barker, labor racketeer de luxe.

Taft Was Slightly
Improved This Noon

Washington, March 7.—(UP)—The condition of William Howard Taft was slightly improved today but physicians emphasized the fact that day-to-day changes are "almost negligible."

The former Chief Justice seems a little better this morning," a statement issued shortly before noon by Mr. Taft's physicians said. "But the change in his condition from day to day is almost negligible."

FIND WRECKAGE

To Get Bodies of Crew
Of Ill Fated Ship

Los Angeles, March 7.—(AP)—Climaxing a 12-day search, two automobile parties today were en route to a canyon high up in the San Bernardino mountains above Lake Arrowhead where the wreckage of a Western Air Express transport plane and bodies of its crew members were sighted yesterday by Mrs. Juanita Burns and Dudley Steele, aviators.

The plane, piloted by James E. Doles and carrying co-pilot A. W. Bieber and Steward John W. Slaton, has been the object of an extensive search since it became lost in a storm after leaving Kingman, Ariz., on the morning of February 23 en route to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Burns, a licensed pilot, 25-years-old, had been flying over the mountains for several days looking for the lost plane.

Steele said he could see the wreckage plainly, and that the "W. A. E." initials and number could be made out on the tail. The plane, he said, apparently had landed right side up.

Doles, pilot of the ill-fated air liner, was 28 years old, married and had one small son. Western Air Express officials said he was considered one of the most reliable pilots in the service.

Bieber was 20 years old and recently was married. Slaton, 35, and married, recently entered the W. A. E. service.

Heroic Transfer Of
Sought On Charge
Him to Stricken Home

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Aboard S. S. America, at sea, March 7.—(UP)—Chief Officer Harry Manning and Chief George S. Fried of the liner America accomplished in darkness and heavy seas last night, another of the humanitarian acts which already had made them known to the world as major-heroes.

They took aboard, at the risk of life, Chief Engineer Frank Battam of the east-bound steamer Crapora, to bring him back to America where his daughter, critically burned in a ship fire at New Orleans, is calling for him.

Responding to wireless requests from the Cranford, Captain Fried maneuvered his great ship to within 500 yards of the other vessel. Then Manning "went overboard" with 11 seamen, in a lifeboat, pulled through threatening waves, and returned with his passenger who was hauled to the deck by breeches buoy.

The two ships were approximately 300 miles south of Cape Race when their dramatic meeting came. Battam, aboard the Cranford, had received a message telling of the New Orleans tragedy, in which his wife had died, his son was lost, and his daughter was critically burned as the result of a dockside fire aboard the S. S. Seantic last Sunday.

Davenport Got Wrath
Because Friend Bluf-
fed In Poker Game

Evanston, Ill., March 7.—(AP)—What started out as a friendly game of poker ended in police court yesterday with John Davenport, attempting to justify the black eye he gave James Thompson.

"I will tell you," said Davenport to the court, "how it was. I looks at my cards and I bets. Jim looks at his and raises. So I sees him and ups it some more and he ups it right back at me and pretty soon the rest of the party drops out and it's all between me and Jim."

"The dealer asks Jim how many and Jim says he's satisfied with what he holds. Then the dealer asks me and I says I'll play these. So I bets and Jim raises and I raises and he raises until there's maybe $35 in the pot and I calls. Then he lays down his hand—a pair of deuces—and I gives him a poke in the eye."

"I ask you, Judge, if you wouldn't do the same thing to a guy that bluffed like that on a pair?"

Judge Harry Porter admitted there was some cause for grievance but pointed out that this was not taken into account by the ordinance against eye poking. "So I'll fine you $2 and costs. By the way, what did you have?"

"An ace of spades," replied Davenport. "A jack of diamonds, seven, eight and ten of clubs."

DIXON MAN TAKEN
ON BIGAMY CHARGE
DENIES HIS GUILTCharge Marriage Here
Last May Was Illegal:
$3,000 Bond

Harold Gray, 25, a magazine solicitor of this city, was arrested Thursday afternoon on a charge of bigamy preferred by Miss Mary Louise Moninger, investigator of a Chicago welfare association, whose ward, formerly Lillian Frey, is alleged to have become Gray's second and bigamous wife in a marriage ceremony performed by Justice Martin J. Gannon in May of last year.

According to the charge preferred by the welfare investigator Gray was married in Goshen, Ind., July 24, 1925, under the name of Roger Chester Blake. His first wife, from whom it is alleged he was not legally separated, is said to be living in Peoria at present.

Yesterday Gray was supposed to be in Freeport and Justice of the Peace Grover Gehant was making out the necessary complaint and warrant for his arrest when he was advised the wanted man was in Dixon. At about the same time wife No. 2 of this city advised the Justice that Gray wanted her to meet him downtown. The meeting took place in Gehant's office and Gray was placed under arrest.

His bond was fixed at $3,000 in default of which he was remanded to the county jail to await his preliminary hearing, which will take place Tuesday before Justice William T. Terrill.

Gray denies the allegations.

No Clue To Holdup
East Dixon Merchant

Continued investigation by the Sheriff's office has failed to develop a single tangible clue in the holdup of Adam Fassi and his son, Leo, at their store near the cement plant Wednesday evening. The only development recorded yesterday was that the license plates on a Chrysler car in which four hard-looking characters were seen about the city during the day Wednesday, had been stolen from a house belonging to a Maywood undertaker. The officers theorize that if the four were Chicago gangsters and committed the local holdup they had several sets of stolen license plates and would have changed the numbers on their car long before reaching Chicago.

Oak Park Official
Sought Of Charge
Of Embezzlement

Oak Park, Ill., March 7.—(AP)—James M. Ferron, Oak Park magistrate who disappeared more than a week ago was sought today on a warrant charging embezzlement of $14,856 of the village funds.

The warrant was issued last night on the complaint of Charles H. Cryslar, president of the village, a suburb of Chicago. Another warrant was issued for Robert F. Nichols, Ferron's nephew, charging him with being an accessory. Nichols surrendered to the police.

Cryslar said a check for $14,856 which the magistrate had turned over to the village board in payment of fines collected was returned by his bank because of insufficient funds. The village president said no discrepancies had been found in Ferron's accounts.

The veteran magistrate disappeared February 27. His friends said they thought he was suffering from a nervous breakdown and that he might be an amnesia victim.

INDIAN GIRL IS ARRESTED FOR
LOVE MURDERArtist's Wife Brutally
Slain—Indian Girl Accuses Another

Buffalo, N. Y., March 7.—(UP)—Two Indian women were arrested here today in connection with what police called one of the strangest and most primitive murders ever to occur in this vicinity.

Mrs. Clotilde Marchand, wife of Henri Marchand, prominent artist, was found dead under overturned furniture in her home. The body was badly bruised, and authorities first decided she had been killed by a fall down stairs. The body was found by Henri, Jr., 12-year-old son of the Marchands.

Then police announced that Lillian Jimmerson, 35-year-old Indian, had confessed she was present in the Marchand home when Mrs. Nancy Bown, 66, another Indian, beat Mrs. Marchand to death with a hammer. Miss Jimmerson and Mrs. Bown were arrested.

Motive Conjectured.

Detectives admitted the motive for the alleged crime was conjectural. They said Mrs. Bown had served as a model for Marchand in work which he was doing for the Buffalo Museum of Natural Science. The Indian women live on the Iroquois reservation at Cattaraugus.

Police suggested that Mrs. Bown might have become infatuated with the artist and jealous of his wife. They said they had information that she was seen leaving the Marchand home yesterday shortly before Henri, Jr., found his mother's body.

Physician declared they found a chloroform-soaked wad of paper in Mrs. Marchand's throat and said there were three wounds on the head and finger-marks on the throat.

Giant Airplane Had Trouble At Airport

A giant cabin airplane, owned by the Public Service Company and carrying J. L. Hecht, Vice-President of the Public Service Company and Assistant Sedrick, nearly came to grief about noon today at the Dixon Airport when, in trying to take off in heavy ground, the big plane turned up on its nose, and then, after being righted, blew out a tire on the second attempt at takeoff. The party was held up here this afternoon while the tire was being repaired.

The ship is a Sikorsky amphibian, equipped with two Pratt & Whitney Wasp motors of 420 H. P. each. Its name is The Northern Light and it is used by officials of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois in official trips throughout the territory.

Lieut. A. L. Caperton, pilot, who, with Lou Gordon, mechanic, make up the crew, said today that the ground at the airport, caused by the thawing of the field, was responsible for their trouble in getting off. The ship weighs 10,000 pounds.

Gordon, 1928, made the trans-Atlantic flight with Miss Amelia Earhart in The Friendship, and remained with the plane after it was purchased by Donald Woodward.

Getting Name In The Paper Got Him In Bad
With Abandoned Wife

Chicago, Mar. 7.—(AP)—This thing of getting one's name in the paper all has its disadvantages.

Thomas Morrissey's name reached the public prints when he was arrested in Illinois on the charge of slaying brother of Willie Doody, condemned police slayer. Arrested just on general principles, it seemed, or maybe because Doody looked like his notorious brother.

At any rate the police could find no charge to bring against Morrissey and Judge Joseph W. Schulman told him to go home and forget it. As Morrissey started to leave the court room, his wife appeared, waiting a warrant charging non-support. She said she had tried to find him for three years and just caught up with him when she read of his arrest in the newspapers.

MIDWINTER

ERBERUS on drowsy paws
Hides one sleepy head.
In a silent world above
Russet leaves are shed.

Stiff and still the rushes stand
Paper-brown and dry.
While across the icy waste
Bird nor beast doth cry.

Snow deep lie the snowdrops pent,
Each within its cell.
Tell me when all things dream
Shall it yet be well?

Press your ear against the earth
Where the fir trees keep
Just a little free from snow
Harken! in her sleep

Prosperine is stirring now
Gently yet you hear:
Cerberus will yawn anon
And his mistress dear

Open her violet eyes and shake
All her gleaming hair:
Flinging back her coverlet,
Look! the spring is there!

Mrs. Bradley Files Suit For Divorce, from Young Husband

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Natalie Blair, 49 year old daughter of Henry A. Blair, millionaire president of the Chicago surface lines, yesterday filed suit for divorce from the husband who first entered her home as a playmate of her son by an earlier marriage.

The bill charges that the husband, Neil Bradley, 28, left her January 3, 1928, and that his whereabouts is at present unknown.

The Bradleys were married February 8, 1920 at Panhandle, Texas. Bradley was the friend and playmate of the petitioner's son, Blair Higginbotham. The boys met at the Higginbotham summer home at Trout Lake, Wis., in 1917. A year later Mrs. Higginbotham secured a divorce from her husband, Harry Higginbotham, Chicago broker, on the grounds of infidelity.

Mrs. Higginbotham and Bradley became engaged in December, 1919, and were married when she was called to Texas by word of his illness. She was then 39 and Bradley 18.

The Bradleys separated two months after the wedding but Mrs. Bradley denied rumors of a divorce and they were reunited the following August in Colorado.

Am. Legion Auxiliary Meeting Wednesday

The American Legion Auxiliary Dixon Unit No. 12 held their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in Legion Hall. The attendance was splendid. There has been much sickness among the members but the sunshine chairman reported these gains, which was good news. The report of the recent card party was excellent. A fine sum of money was turned into the treasurer from this. Letters were read from several hospitals, thanking the unit for donations sent the men confined there. The ladies voted to send a case of eggs to Oak Forrest, T. B. Sanatorium, also $10.00 to the Dept. cigarette fund. A food sale will be held the last Saturday of March.

A large class of new members were given the initiation of the Auxiliary. This is the first initiatory work of the new officers of the unit and it was done very beautifully.

The aerial membership drive of the Dept. of the Legion and Auxiliary closed Feb. 28. Twenty-five airplanes covered every section of the state of Illinois. These planes were donated by various corporations. Cards were collected from the various Posts of the State prior to the leaving of the planes by the county commanders, who in turn took them to the various airports, such as Freeport, Rockford, Peoria, etc., and from there they were flown to the Bloomington airport, co-ordinating the flight time to arrive at 3 P. M. Official approved and endorsement was given the American Legion by the "Illinois Aerial Navigation Commission," also "The Dept. of Commerce Bureau of Navigation."

Illinois was the second state in membership at the National convention of the Legion and Auxiliary in 1929, and is making a big effort to be first this year.

At the close of the business session the Legion ladies enjoyed a social hour. Delicious refreshments were served by the committee, Mrs. Daisy Brenner being chairman, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Chase, Mrs. Minnie Mueller, Mrs. Annie Drew and Mrs. Sophia Jones.

Social Circle Meeting at Straw Home

The Prairieville Social Circle met at the pleasant home of Mrs. Carl Straw on Wednesday in a most interesting and profitable meeting. The hostess spared no effort to make it so, and she was rewarded by the presence of twenty-six members, twelve guests and eleven children. At noon a bounteous picnic dinner was served.

The table was most attractive, being adorned by three lovely birthday cakes, in honor of the birthdays of three members of the society, and presented just before the dinner was served, to Mrs. Geo. LeFevre, of Sterling; Mrs. Martin Lenox and Mrs. Earl Harris. Then the society sang the birthday song.

After dinner the business meeting was called. Mrs. Oscar Miller, who at one time was a member of the Social Circle, and who now lives near Los Angeles, California, was a guest at the meeting, and gave a very interesting talk on the chicken industry in California.

Mrs. Straw read a few lines sent to her by her mother, who is now a patient at Mayo Bros. hospital, in Rochester, Minn.

Four new members were taken into the society at this meeting. The remainder of the afternoon was in charge of the entertainment committee, and several contests were given, which were much enjoyed.

The guests then departed to meet in two weeks with Mrs. Leroy Powers of Prairieville, after a most delightful day at the Straw home.

Woman's Desert Flora Wins English Honors

Pasadena, Cal.—(AP)—The Royal Horticultural society of England has expressed its official appreciation to Mrs. A. Sherman Hoyt of her gift of a collection of California cacti and desert plants to Kew Gardens, London.

Regarded as one of the world's foremost authorities on desert flora, Mrs. Hoyt exhibited the collection at the society's Chelsea, show last spring and was awarded a gold medal and was the first time the Royal Horticultural society ever bestowed such honors on a woman.

Most of her collection, which numbered more than 150 plants, was gathered in Death Valley, with some coming from various California arid areas and deserts.

MAKING WARFARE RESPECTABLE.

The London conference has agreed on rules to humanize submarine warfare. Submarines, it is agreed, are to be subject in their attacks on merchant ships to the same rules that apply to surface vessels; they are not to sink without warning, and they are always to make sure that passengers and crew are safely embarked in lifeboats, with help near at hand, before firing their torpedoes.

All of this sounds very nice, and Secretary Stimson is quoted as saying that this agreement alone was worth the trip to London.

Possibly he is quite right; yet there seems to be something very futile about this business of dividing rules for war, so that it can be "civilized" and "humane." Does anyone suppose that in a major war all combatants would scrupulously observe these rules?

War is a dreadful thing and needs to be abolished. Cooking up regulations to make it respectable seems a pointless sort of job, at best.

PRESERVING FREE SPEECH.

A police official who can respect the rights of free speech in trying times is to be commended—because so many of them don't. So we call your attention to Safety Director Edwin D. Barry of Cleveland.

A couple of thousand jobless men, led by Communists, put on a demonstration on the steps of Cleveland city hall the other day. They were in an ugly mood, and they provoked a fight with police which ended in a wholesale clubbing. Ordinarily that would mean a rigid clamping down on all similar demonstrations.

But Barry promptly announced that the Communists could continue to hold as many public meetings in the city's park-like "Public Square" as they pleased, and talk all they liked, without interference. If they get violent, he says, the police will act; but they can meet freely and talk all they wish.

His attitude is an enlightened one, worthy of commendation.

THE SIDEWALK LOUDSPEAKERS.

New York City is on the verge of adopting an ordinance which would prevent the use of radio loudspeakers on the streets outside of shops, except on such special occasions as world series, political conventions and the like. At such times, however, the owner would have to get a permit from the police department before turning his loudspeaker on.

There is an ordinance that a good many other cities might well copy. The sidewalk loudspeaker is usually nothing on earth but a public nuisance. It is raucous and squawky, an offense to the ears if people who would prefer not to have to listen to it; and as far as its advertising value goes, we have a hunch that it drives away three customers for every one it lures in.

Turn the thing off, except on special occasions!

500,000 MORE AUTOMOBILES.

John N. Willys, automobile manufacturer, tells President Hoover that the American automobile industry will produce 500,000 more automobiles this year than it produced last year.

If he is correct, doubts about the nation's quick resumption of a busy and prosperous business condition ought to come to an end at once. The automobile trade seems to be a barometer of business conditions for the whole nation; when it thrives, business everywhere thrives, and when it slumps the effects are widespread.

A word of caution might be in order, however. An automobile output of the size predicted by Mr. Willys might come perilously close to the edge of serious overproduction—which in turn, might bring on a catastrophic slump for 1931.

Spring must be almost here. The baseball writers in the southland have already discovered 19 new Christy Mathewsons and 21 new Walter Johnstons.

Dense Dorothy thinks the naval parley has something to do with a certain kind of oranges.

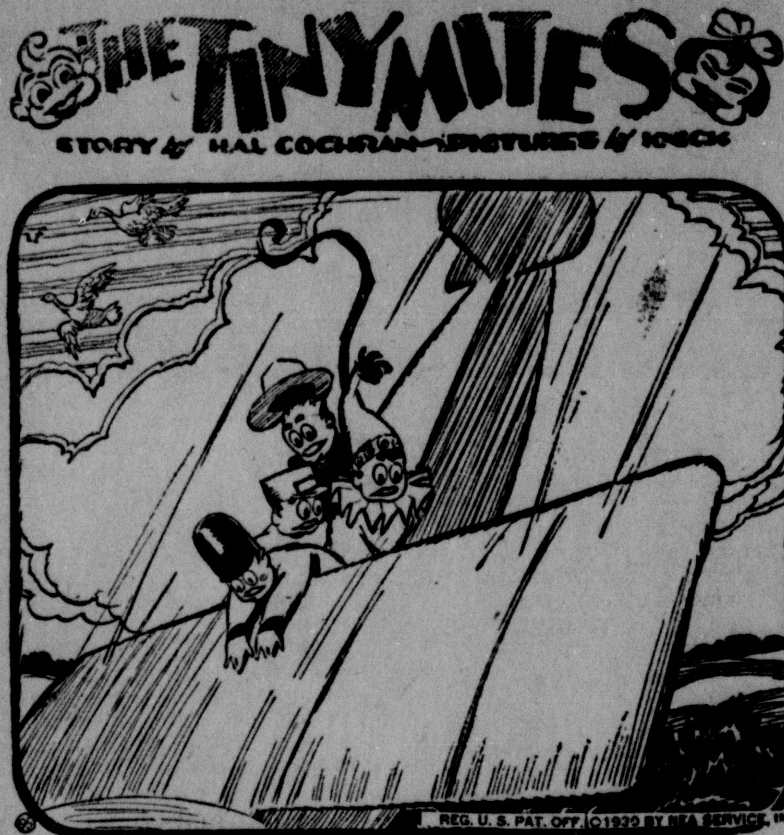

You never can tell. The boy who saves old magazines may grow up to be a dentist some day.

And that reminds us of our neighbor, Dense Dorothy, who thinks "Bossy" Gillis is a prize bovine.

Free speech is guaranteed under the Constitution, but you have to use tact with a traffic cop.

Times certainly have changed in Kentucky when a president can draw a crowd with a talk about water.

A former department store salesman has been made a judge. Now we can expect to hear of somebody fined $2.95.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The flock of ducks quacked all at once. It seemed to be one of their stunts, while flying gaily through the air, in one long V-shaped line. Wherever the leader went, the rest all seemed to do their very best to trail along behind him and it made a picture fine.

The Tinies, sitting in their plane, all of a sudden seemed to gain a lead upon the ducks, and the ducks quacked louder still. "They're sure excited," Scouty said. "They hate to see us surge ahead. Each time we start to leave them far behind, they get a thrill."

Then from below they heard a shot. "Twas from a hunter, like as not. The ducks were very smart. They seemed to figure danger near. Some turned to left and others right and soon they all were out of sight. "A gun," said little Copsy. "Is the one thing that they fear."

"If there's a hunter down below," cried Clowny, "I sure hope he'll know that this is not a great big bird. He might shoot straight up here. Perhaps we'd better rise up high and fade from sight up in the sky. When Mister Hunter cannot see us, there'll be naught to fear."

So Scouty said, "All right! Here goes!" And, slow, but sure, the small plane "rose. All of a sudden Clowny shouted, "This is high enough. The queer air currents change, you know. No higher can we safely go. Right now the plane is jerking and the going's rather rough."

Just then they heard a sudden snap, and Copsy cried, "We're in a trap. The rubber band has broken. Our propeller's bound to stop." And sure enough, that's what it did. The plane then seemed to jerk and skid. It wasn't long until the Tinies felt the small plane drop.

(The plane lands with a smack in the next story.)

News of the Churches

Good Thoughts for Good People

Men may differ in their opinions as to how peace may be accomplished, but they are agreed that good must finally triumph. Would it not be wise, then, to consider our weapons? In writing to the Corinthians, Paul said "Though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds." Throughout the Bible it is repeatedly emphasized that reliance upon divine power is the most effective weapon in any circumstance.

The Christian Science Monitor.

With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in. . . . to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.

Abraham Lincoln.

When shall we see a nation ruled, not by the law, but by the Gospel; not in the letter, which kills, but in the spirit which is love, forgiveness, life?

Charles Kingsley.

In the end, peace is not to be maintained by documents, no matter how perpetual their declarations may be, nor is it maintained by institutions, no matter how perfect they may be. It is only to be gained through good will, through esteem, by the upbuilding of those same relations of consideration and respect that make good neighbors.

Herbert Hoover.

Nevertheless we, according to his promise look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. Wherefore beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

II Peter.

Easter music is under way, and the pastor's preparatory classes are organized; so that the goal of a Great Easter and Pentecost observance seems most possible for us this year.

However, the element of personal devotion and consecration is ever essential, and without it full attainment cannot be.

The entire church membership is enjoined to undertake afresh the spirit of worship, privately and publicly, and the dedication of self through service and self-denial, that the approaching anniversary of Jesus' suffering on our behalf may really see in his disciples an appreciation and imitation.

Daily Health Talk

HEMORRHOIDS
BY GEORGE B. LAKE, M. D.
Chicago, Ill.

This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 21 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Hemorrhoids or "piles" are nothing more nor less than varicosities of the circular veins on the legs) of the lower end of the rectum. In course, they may become complicated by fissures (cracks in the mucous membrane), fistulas (false passages) or other inflammatory conditions, or they may split open and bleed. When we hear of "bleeding piles," "itching piles," etc., we may be sure that some complication of the primary condition is present.

When men began to walk upright, the weight of the pelvic organs pressed down into the pelvis instead of being supported by the front wall of the pelvis and the lower ribs, as is the case with the four-footed animals. Other peculiarities of human anatomy work against us, too. These hemorrhoidal veins connect directly with the veins of the liver, which are often subject to congestion; they are directly through the powerful muscles which are used in bowel movements and in "straining"; they are able to be pressed upon by tumors in the pelvis, including a full bowel; and they are situated just under the delicate mucous membrane, where they are peculiarly exposed to injury.

If we look over the conditions which predispose to the development of these troublesome little tumors, we see what must be done to prevent them. The diet must be digestible and must contain enough fruits and fresh vegetables to prevent constipation. Too much mustard, ketchup, spices and such "hot" things will irritate the rectum.

Long hours on the feet, without sitting down for a few minutes to rest, giving heavy pressure to bear in this position and this is, of course, especially true in pregnant women.

Strong purgatives also cause trouble, because they result in "straining," with consequent congestion. Plenty of fruit and, if necessary, a little mineral oil are much better. Another matter of importance is the thorough cleansing of the anal region after going to the toilet. It should also be thoroughly washed at least once a day.

It is very dangerous to look upon every troublesome condition about the anus as "nothing but piles." It may be only that; but also it may be an abscess, a fistula, or even the first and curable stage of cancer of the rectum. All who think they have hemorrhoids should see a doctor once, and let him decide.

THAT there is business for you—plenty of it—in the trade territory of your city. It's up to you to get it!

If you don't get busy and keep busy the mail order houses will get the business that you should get. People expect quality—nothing else will suit them, and they expect you to tell them, through your advertisements, what you have. If you don't advertise they will look over their catalogues and buy from the mail order houses that do.

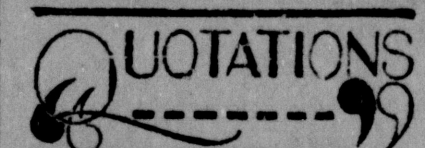

The public is impatient, but they don't trust to luck. They read the advertisements and buy from those enterprising firms who invite their business by truthful advertising.

ADVERTISING IS A HELPFUL SERVICE. IT SERVES BOTH BUYER AND SELLER.

CONTINUOUS ADVERTISING BUILDS REPUTATIONS. THE PUBLIC IS EDUCATED TO THE FACT THAT CONTINUOUS ADVERTISERS ARE SQUARE-DEALERS.

CONTINUOUS ADVERTISING INCREASES BUSINESS AND MAKES SELLING COSTS LOWER.

—William Lyon Phelps.

"You take all the experience and judgment of men over 50 out of the world and there wouldn't be enough left to run it."

—Grover A. Whalen, New York police commissioner.

"Too many overestimate the value of college training for all sorts and conditions of men."
—Chief Justice Hughes.

GAS PAINS GONE STOMACH FINE SINCE TAKING KAVATONE

"Thanks to This Marvelous Preparation, I am Now Feeling Better Than I Ever Did."
Says Happy Man.

What is the secret of Kavatone's amazing power to go to the very source of gas and ailments in so short a time? Why is it that Kavatone in so short a time has become the most talked of medicine in America. These and similar questions are constantly being asked of the Kavatone Man and he is glad to answer them because it is this constant talk that has spread the fame of this medicine far and wide.

J. ROY MICKLEY.

To all who ask the Kavatone Man explains that Kavatone is made from a combination of mother nature's own roots, herbs, barks and blossoms, and that because of the ingredients and the manner in which they are combined Kavatone works right hand in hand with nature in eliminating poisons and impurities from the system and in so doing helps to revive and rejuvenate the functioning organs of the body. Daily scores of people call at the store where the Kavatone Man is located to tell of their experiences in the belief that it may help others who suffer. One of the most recent callers was J. Roy Mickley, widely known farmer, living at R. R. No. 1, Tampico, Illinois. To the Kavatone Man Mr. Mickley said: "Before taking Kavatone I suffered terribly with pains in lower intestinal region and in the small of my back. I could hardly ever eat a meal without suffering for a long while after with gas pains which made me feel miserable. Headaches too added to my agony, and mornings upon arising I would have a bad taste in my mouth and my tongue would be coated. I had heard and read so much about Kavatone that I decided to try this medicine. I talked to the Kavatone Man about my condition and he told me of other people, right here in Dixon, who had suffered as I did, and who had found relief in Kavatone. I had taken but one bottle of this wonderful medicine, when I noticed that I could eat better, and the food agreed with me. I did not have any more gas pains, or headaches, and those terrible pains in the small of my back disappeared. I am certainly glad I decided to give Kavatone a trial, for now I am free from all the aches and pains I had suffered for years and I am gaining in weight and strength. I heartily and conscientiously praise Kavatone for what it has done for me."

The Kavatone Man is at the Ford Hopkins Drug Store, Dixon, Ill., where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this great preparation. The famous Kavatone figure, an ingenious human torso showing every organ of the body, is used in this demonstration and everyone is cordially invited to see and study this figure, an experience which will be interesting and instructive.

added to the capital fund. The Rochelle National Bank is Rochelle's oldest bank.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. August Stunkel is hostess.

Mr. Koritz is head of the experimental work for the Mid West Canning Corporation plants and is a splendid chemist and crop expert. Experimental plants are planted each year and the best strains of seed developed.

Miss Mavis Byvick of Dixon, a former Rochelle resident, attended the basketball game and dance here Friday evening.

It was necessary to call one of the Northwestern wrecking crews from Clinton, Tuesday to place one of the two 90-ton oil-electric standard gauge locomotives manufactured by the George D. Whitcomb Company back into service. The big fellow was derailed in test by a broken rail on the Whitcomb siding just south of the plant.

Central School announces the award of the school letters, R. J. H. B. for Rochelle Junior High School, and numerals to the following girls for their work in basketball: Mary Ellen Allison, Margaret Graf, Elizabeth Unger, E. Rippentrop; B. Angnos, Elaine Bienfang, Marion Hester, C. Tilton, Mary June Zimmerman, Ruth Harris. The girls practice on the high school floor and won first game from Mt. Morris 28 to 8.

Maurice Sauer, of 900 Ninth Street, will hold the formal opening of his new fruit and vegetable store which he is opening up in the Bain Building, Saturday, March 8th. He expects to carry a full line of fruit and vegetables which he will truck from Chicago and Rockford wholesale districts and will secure specialties as required. Mr. Sauer has purchased a large electric refrigerator and will also retail milk and cream. The family will reside in a nicely furnished apartment in the rear of the store.

R. E. Anderson placed one of the street cars he purchased at Rock Island on his property, corner of Main street and Cherry avenue, Tuesday. The car was trucked to Rochelle by John P. Manning and Mr. Anderson will use it as a lunch cafe at the parking place. Mr. Anderson has eight of these interurban cars in service as tourists cabins at Morrison and one as an eating house at his filling station at Ashton.

The Lincoln Flower Shop and the Fashion Hat Shop have moved from their former location, 417 Lincoln Highway into the F. C. Kelley Building formerly leased by the Felton Stores and are now nicely located. Timbers for moving the residence property jointly occupied by the two shops are also on the ground preparatory to clearing the site for Rochelle's new theatre.

Walter Nutt, a machine shop employe of the Geo. D. Whitcomb Co. is confined to his home with the measles.

Walter Rippentrop, star player on the high school basketball team, was unable to play in the Dixon and Waukegan games on account of tonsillitis.

Miss Elizabeth Garten, of Clinton, Iowa, a former high school teacher here, was a week-end guest of Miss Vera Tousley.

Mrs. Stanley Bauder entertained members of her bridge club at her home Saturday evening.

W. B. McHenry was home from Springfield to spend the week-end at his home here.

The Rochelle agriculture classes under the direction of K. E. Wehner, their instructor, have constructed a seed corn tester with which they are going to render a new and very valuable service to the farmers of this district. Many farmers have tried to test their seed corn but because of insufficient and inaccurate equipment they have failed to get accurate results, but now they have the chance to secure the best of service and knowledge with equipment comparable to any in this section of the country. The test given by the agriculture classes consists of six kernels being taken from every ear and placed in the seed corn tester by the use of a system of placing so that the owner is assured of a correct test for each ear of corn. One of the best sterilized cloths and fresh blotting paper is being used on each test to assure correct germination. The temperature and humidity is kept constant by the use of a thermostat to regulate the heat and constant attendance so that every disease of the corn will show up to be analyzed. Many large seed companies employ the same method in the testing of their seed corn as do many farm bureaus and large canning industries. The price charged by the agriculture classes is only three-fourths of a cent an ear which will leave a small profit to the classes which will be used by them to help defray their expenses on their judging contest trips. They have three planned for this year. This includes the recent trip to Mt. Carroll.

The debating teams at Rochelle township high school who are under the direction of Miss Alma Happe are getting their material into shape for their debates on the chain store question. The first debate will take place at Polo, March 13th and on later dates debates will be held at Dixon, DeKalb and Rochelle. The public is cordially invited to attend these debates free of charge and will receive many valuable points on the chain store question. The question to be debated is: "Resolved: That the expansion of the chain store system is detrimental to the people of the United States."

Roland Sheadle, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sheadle, is now with the firm of Horwath & Horwath, hotel auditors, with offices in the Strauss Building, on Michigan Ave., Chicago. Mr. Sheadle has had considerable experience in this line. He was previously with the Allerton in Chicago.

So Fragile Is Your Baby's Spine

It isn't that parents do not really care. Yet—whatever the reason—the fact remains that the comfort of many a little one is handicapped today because mothers fail to provide them with a scientifically constructed baby carriage. Safety lies in choosing a shock-proofed carriage—the kind that is made by Lloyd.

Its basket-shaped body, oil-tempered, sturdy frame and balloon-tired wheels keep the tiny passenger as free from harmful spine vibration as when sleeping in its bed. Gay and subdued colors feature our display of new Lloyd baby carriages and strollers. Prices are extremely moderate.

LUTHER BURBANK'S BIRTH
On March 7, 1849, Luther Burbank, famous American nurseryman and plant breeder, was born on a farm at Lancaster, Mass.

Inspired as a youth by his readings in Darwin's work on plant domestication, young Burbank bought a 17-acre farm near his home and began his life work of plant breeding.

At the age of 23 he developed the Burbank potato, which is now an important standard variety of the Pacific coast region. In 1875 he removed to Santa Rosa, Calif., where he was to carry on for 50 years notable experiments with thousands of kinds of plants.

Burbank introduced among the fruits numerous varieties of apples, cherries, peaches, quinces and nectarines. Among vegetables he produced, besides his potato, new tomatoes, field and sweet corn, squash, asparagus and peas. Perhaps his most extensive experiment was his production of a series of spineless cacti, useful for feeding cattle in arid regions.

YESTERDAY MORNIN G the stockholders of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) held their annual meeting. Several of the matters brought up at that meeting are of possible interest not only to stockholders who could not be present, but to the employees of the Company and to the public as well.

With more than 87,000 owners, with a working force of 40,000 people, and with approximately 35,000 dealers who distribute its products, the Company naturally plays a considerable part in the industrial life and business prosperity of the territory which it serves. We therefore are pleased to report that the past year has been one of the most successful in its history.

One of the outstanding events of the year was the acquisition of controlling interest in the Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company. This gives Standard Oil Company (Indiana) an international organization, serving not only many sections of the United States but a number of Central and South American countries as well. It gives the Company a remarkable reserve of crude oil in some of the finest of the world's oil fields. The year has also seen a wide extension of Standard Oil service in its immediate territory. Service has been increased both to the city motorist and to the farmer.

The needs of our farm customers have grown greatly in recent years. Over 20 per cent of all farms in the states served by Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are now equipped with tractors as well as motor cars. Thousands of them produce their own electric power by means of the gasoline engine. Our Company pioneered in serving the farm and this tradition is being maintained by increasing our facilities each year throughout the farming area.

The past year, however, has been successful in more than a business way. It has been marked by achievements of interest to everyone who drives a car.

We are fortunate in the possession of one of the greatest oil research laboratories in the world, out of which are coming discoveries of first rank importance in the making of petroleum products.

Last fall, after considerable experimental work, we developed a greatly improved Ethyl Gasoline—the new Red Crown Ethyl. The essential feature of this product was the perfection of a gasoline base of unusually high quality with which we combined the Ethyl compound. Its rapid acceptance by the public was hardly unexpected—but it has been gratifying none the less.

Now we are prepared to announce a further manufacturing achievement. For many months this Company has been working to perfect a new product. Its work has been completed. Tests of the product, both in the laboratory and under service conditions, have more than met our expectations. We are convinced that it will prove a contribution both to the pleasure and economy of driving a car.

This product will be announced in a special program to be given over the radio on Wednesday, March 12th.

Because of the character of the announcement a program of unusual interest has been arranged—including Sousa's Band, Mme. Louise Homer and the well-known entertainer, Will Rogers. The broadcast begins at 9:30 P. M. Central Time and will be sent over a chain of fourteen leading stations. It is hoped you will all listen in.

BIG TEN STARS

HOLD ATTENTION

IN INDOOR MEET

Preliminary Events To Be Staged Tonight At Minnesota

Minneapolis, Minn., Mar. 7.—(AP)—Western Conference track and field performers including four stars who hold five of ten existing records, gathered here today preparatory to fighting through tonight's preliminaries for the right to compete Saturday in the 20th annual Big Ten indoor carnival in the University of Minnesota field house.

Individual stars hold the center of interest in the meet with the outcome a tossup because of the number of evenly matched teams who seek the title from Iowa, defending champion, which has the largest number of entries.

Purdue, an underdog in the advance reckonings brought an outstanding performer for the meet, Orval J. Martin who has the unusual distinction of holding conference records in the half mile and the mile.

Other individual champions who will make an attempt to break their own records are George S. Simpson, Ohio State, in the featured 60 yard dash; Hank F. Canby, Iowa pole vaulter; H. E. Hayden, Chicago star in the seventy yard hurdles.

Illinois which has won eight times, the most frequent of any conference member; Michigan, which has won four times; Chicago winner of three meets, and Iowa and Wisconsin which have been victors twice, rate first consideration as probable champions.

Prior to the trials tonight two meetings are scheduled, one of athletic directors of conference schools and the other of track coaches who will draw for running positions and make other final arrangements for the event.

Tonight's preliminaries will consist of trials in the sixty yard dash, the mile and half mile runs, the seventy yard high hurdles, and both trials and semi finals in the 440 yard dash. An eleventh event the broad jump has been added this year, but performers in this will not be seen until Saturday night when Ed Gordon, Iowa Negro, 1928 Olympic team member will perform. Gordon is favored because he has jumped 25 feet, a feat reported for no other entry.

West Palm Beach, Fla.—News reel camera men directed the St. Louis Browns' workouts yesterday, and kept the players going through their stunts so long that Manager Bill Killefer had time only for a short practice.

Pensacola, Fla.—Tom Oliver, rookie outfielder from Little Rock, Ark., starred both at bat and in the field in the Boston Red Sox workout yesterday. Manager Wagner divided the squad to give all athletes sufficient work.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Manager Bill McKechnie planned to send the Boston Braves through a long fielding and batting drill today in preparation for Saturday's tilt with the Yankees. Outfielder Randy Moore has performed so well on third base in practice games that he is expected to start in that position against the Yanks. The regulars defeated the Yammigans, 4 to 1 yesterday. Seibold pitched for three innings for the regulars and allowed only two hits.

San Antonio, Tex.—The New York Giants opened their exhibition game schedule with a 4 to 1 victory over Texas University yesterday. The big leaguers scored all of their runs in the first two innings and were held scoreless for the next seven innings by Mike Delafante, a right handed collegian.

To Decide Salary Question With Ruth

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—The question whether Babe Ruth will be paid $75,000 or $85,000 for his 1930 mauling transcended training camp activities of the New York Yankees today, with the club's president and sole owner, Col. Jacob Ruppert, here with his lawyer for a conference with the home run king.

Speculation centered upon these two possible eventualities: (1) That Ruth and Ruppert will compromise on a one-year agreement, calling for the record salary of $85,000. (2) That Ruth will capitulate to the Ruppert logic and agree to the club's terms of $75,000 a year for 1930 and 1931, representing an increase of $5,000 over his salary for the past three seasons.

Favor American Horse In London

BY TOM CREEDON

(United Press Staff Correspondent) London, March 7.—(UP)—While the American horse, Easter Hero, continues the popular favorite for the Grand National, there is no reason to suppose the race will develop into a one-horse affair.

As the season advances several others have been showing marked ability in the various rehearsals. Gregalach by winning the steeplechase at Manchester, after an absence of 10 months from a race track rallied many new supporters to his side.

Gregalach is likely to overshadow his stable companions, Great Span and Sandy Hook—at least till the day of the race, but Sandy Hook has 16 pounds less to carry than Gregalach.

Sandy Hook is a proved Aintree fencer who went exceptionally well in the race last year keeping close to Easter Hero for four miles. One of the best performances so far this season has been given by one of the Grand National lesser lights, Merri- vale II. This horse won a four-mile race recently at Gatwick, beating several other aspirants to steeplechasing fame, including M. D. Blair's Ballyhanwood, H. G. Selfridge's Ruddyman, and Lady H. McCalmont's Irish Mare alike, winner of the Irish Grand National.

Otto Peters Leads Team To This City

A team of champion bowlers, including Otto Peters, former Dixon man, and Ed Hall, Springfield's two leading bowlers, will roll an exhibition game at the Pastime Alleys Saturday evening, March 8 at 8 P. M. The opposition set up will be Larry Poole, Ed Worley, Frank Cleary, Jack Hartzell and P. J. Moersbaecher. A good crowd of spectators is expected to witness this unusual gathering. The Springfield team will roll in the Ottawa Annual Tournament the following day, at Ottawa, Ill.

Tune In On This

CHAINS vs. HOMES

Hello Everybody, we're going into action—The Old Home Town Merchants Express is back on the track — toot-toot — here we come — Clear the track — and watch that cow catcher—cause it's going to do some wrecking.

As in past emergencies the old home town criers are coming to the rescue and lead the way to better times. Follow them, they have the interest of your Community at heart—past actions prove that!

The trouble this time is the Chain Stores, they came into our Community in the disguise of Modern Merchandising but the mask has slipped and we have discovered them the Greatest Menace of the Age. They are sapping the initiative and financial resources of our Community and pulling nothing back in return. It is now time for all loyal citizens to take sides — Our Battle Cry is "Break the Chains" and it is our Challenge. This is a fight of self preservation.

Friends, let's see what is the matter. It's the old story of united we stand, divided we fall. These stores owned by foreign capital have moved into our towns to conquer us, and to get a part of the business from these towns which have been built by the efforts and the money and the co-operation of the Independent Merchants and taxpayers. They haven't a dime invested here except their own stocks and leases and they don't care what becomes of the town or us. We people fell for the Chains without thinking — we just figured that IF it was REALLY possible to save a few cents here and there, why not? We thought the Community would move right along. We have found out that money left in our local banks over night to be checked out the next day by Wall Street isn't helping the Community. Half of us can't be prosperous and the other half not know where the next meal is coming from. It's all for one and one for all, and we are all finding it out by bitter experience.

Now don't go 'way, we're going to talk right out in school and say a few things for you folks. It may ruffle up the feathers but we think you will agree with us, when you finish reading this broadcast, that we are right. We're going to fight fire with fire and going to fight standing up—here goes and the first on the list is you—

MR. LAWYER

How many cases did you try last year for the Chain Organization? Is it fair that you should trade with the Chain Gang and reap your prosperity from the people that work in, for, and own Home Town Enterprises? And you—

MR. DOCTOR

How many times were you called on last year for professional services by the Chain Gang? Who pays the salaries of the folks you are called to see? Say Doc, when you go into a Chain Store you are cutting off your own nose to spite your face. Wake up! And you—

MR. DENTIST

You are getting your Wisdom teeth pulled and don't know it! How many teeth do you pull for the Chain Gang? Can't you see that you are going out of your way to cheat yourself? If the Community isn't prosperous—and what Community can be prosperous if it becomes only a trading post operated by the Chains who send their — your — money to the home office in Wall Street) where are folks going to get their money to have their teeth worked on? And you—

MR. FARMER

You are the folks who think the whole world is against you and yet — you are spending your money in these Chain Gang Stores — the outfit that does more to cut down the prices on the product you raise than any other agency in the world. Listen, I'm quoting from James E. Boyle, Professor of Rural Economy of Cornell University — "Every year some canner of corn, peas, tomatoes, peaches and so on, can too big a pack. He rushes to the Chain Store with his surplus. The Chain buyer recognizing the surplus drives a hard bargain, often buying below cost of production. This stuff then becomes a leader. The effect is a general depression on a sensitive market. Here again the farm is the shock absorber, for buyers can best protect themselves by paying the farmer less." Now then, what do you fellows think about that? You farmers act as if the Chain Gang were a Moses leading you out of the Wilderness. You're helping to force down your own prices by trading with the Chain Store. Well, well, and—

MR. BANKER

You who make your money by loaning other people's money to someone else. What are you going to do if the folks who leave their money in your Bank when they have it — haven't any money to leave in your Bank—where are you going to get money to loan? You can't loan — nor borrow from the Chain Boys that's a cinch. It looks as if your best bet is to stick with the Home Town Merchant. And now you—

MR. & MRS. SCHOOL TEACHER

You, who are supposed to teach our youngsters the things that will make them worth more than $1.50 a day above the head — where do you stand? Are you taking the money paid you from the taxes levied on the people of this Community and sending it out of the Community by spending it at a Chain Store? Where are your wages coming from when the Home Town folks haven't any more money with which to pay you fair salaries? Watch out teachers or big Chain Picture Concerns will make you a thing of the past, and start teaching our children by means of talking pictures. And you—oh you—

MR. PROPERTY OWNER

You are the fellow who ran Charlie Jones out of his store because he couldn't stand double rent and a ten year lease, but you have a lot of other property in this town that isn't worth half as much as it was before, because all of the Charlie Jones in town haven't been doing so well. So old man, you haven't derived a great lot of benefit from your high rent yet—and listen — what will happen if the Chain Stores have a monopoly on their line when the time comes to renew that lease? Now—

MR. PREACHER

You, who want to sell salvation at Union wages and buy your goods at bargain prices—you, who are supposed to advocate co-operation and brotherly love — why say — you should be preaching sermons every Sunday on this very subject, advising your people to trade with those who make your salary possible, who occasionally help to redecorate the Church, buy a new furnace or help to pay off that old note. Let your conscience be your guide. Are you giving your fellowmen a square deal? And you—

MR. UNDERTAKER

I see you sitting back there in the corner waiting for someone to kick in. How many coffins have you sold to the Chain Store Boys? And yet there you go — And you—

MR. INSURANCE MAN

Always on the alert for new prospects aren't you? Are you handling the insurance of the Chain Gang? Are you going to add them to cut wages and make those old time big policies impossible? Here's a chance for you to do some real work and hard think. And—

MR. SALESMAN

What is your line? Are the Chains your friends — listen fellows, don't hog-tie yourselves by trying — yes trying — to save money by trading with them. And—

MR. POLITICIAN

Where do you get off? — Right here we are going to explode a bomb — it handed us a bigger laugh than Will Rogers when we saw a Campaign Commissioner coming out of a Red Front Chain Store the other evening — why fellow — what were you thinking of? You taking the salary paid to you by this Community and sending it to Wall Street via the Chain Store — say, how long do you think it will take us to get that money back — wake up you public servants if you don't want tax warrants for your pay too — And—

MR. NEWSPAPER MAN

Please now, don't take exception to this — we're talking to the whole class, we can't blame you for printing Chain Store advertising; it is good business for you — but please don't print that putrid propaganda sent out from Wall Street in your news columns. Investigate it — and remember that it was we, the home towners, that helped you develop to sizeable and profitable papers. Don't run that stuff free and then wonder why Charlie Jones can't pay his advertising bill. The people have faith in you. And now, last but not least—

MR. LABORER

Pull up your chair and let's talk this over nice and confidential like. For a long time you had a tough time until you got your Unions going fine. Now just as you can see your way clear and better time to do about you? We wonder sometimes how you reconcile yourself to your conscience and your God when we see you come trooping out of Chain Stores with your arms full of bundles? Are you, too, fooling yourself into thinking you are saving at Chain Stores? Are you helping the Chains work toward the day when they will dictate your wage? Where mass production will make you worth $1.50 a day; where one man does the work of three, working all day and half the night as the slave of some Wall Street Gang. Honest now, do you want this savings at the expense of your fellow men? Are you going to cast aside the teachings you have followed for fifty years in realizing a working day and working wage and be dictated to in the near future? Brother, how do you reconcile yourself when you walk out of a Chain Store and THINK you are getting something a penny cheaper and that penny comes from one of your brother workers in another line. THINK IT OVER!

YOURS VERY TRULY,

The Dixon Community Builders

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistakes and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

THURSDAY'S CORRECTIONS

(1) Carson City, not Reno, is the capital of Nevada. (2) San Diego is southeast of Reno, not west. (3) There is no headlight on the locomotive. (4) The left part of the switch track is missing. (5) The scrambled word is SUBSEQUENT.

Seek New Track Laurels

Spurred by the success of their cross country team which last season captured the coveted intercollegiate trophy, the University of Pennsylvania's "sugar babies" have hit the cinders for the spring training grind. Penn's trackmen have been dubbed "sugar babies" because their trainer Lawson Robertson, former Olympic coach, doles out sugar before a race as a quick source of energy. Above, the "sugar babies" are being paced around the board track in Franklin Field stadium under the watchful eye of Robertson (in overcoat).

ILLINOIS LADY SAYS KONJOLA IS WONDERFUL

Was Bedfast for Nine Weeks—New and Different Medicine Scores Another Triumph.

"Konjola is certainly a wonderful medicine. I had no idea there was a remedy that could work so fast," said Mrs. W. H. Roman, 614 Levitt street, Peoria. "I had despaired of ever finding a medicine that would help me. For years I suffered from nervousness. Finally I was forced to remain in bed. I had fainting spells, too, and these were becoming more frequent.

"A friend asked me why I did not try Konjola and she was so enthusiastic decided to see what it would do for me. The first bottle showed me that I was on the right track. Constipation was relieved; my appetite and digestion improved and day by day my nerves became calmed. I am enjoying health now and that I never expected to have again and I owe it all to this wonderful Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, 123 W. First St., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Murder Backstairs

by ANNE AUSTIN

AUTHOR OF "THE AVENGING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

THE CRIME: Doris Matthews, lady's maid, murdered Friday night in summerhouse by blow on the head with heavy perfume flask; body dumped into lake. A state of millionaire Berkeley.

DETECTIVES: Bonnie Dundee, guest at time of crime and discoverer of body at sunrise swimming nearby; Captain Strawn of the homicide squad.

MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLD: Mrs. George Berkeley, social climber; George Berkeley, opposed to his daughter's marriage to Seymour Crosby; New York society widower, close friend of Mrs. Letitia Lambert social secretary to Mrs. Berkeley.

Clorinda Berkeley, engaged to Crosby; observed by Dundee stealing out of the house Friday night, scarf in hand.

Gigi Berkeley, who unconsciously sprinkled all guests Friday night from flask of perfume presented by Crosby to her mother.

Dick Berkeley, drunk Friday night; infatuated with Doris; and forced her to agree to meet him later that night.

Wickett, butler, formerly in employ of both Mrs. Lambert and Crosby.

Engene Arnold, chauffeur, engaged to Doris.

Clorinda and Dick are first suspects. Dick is still missing from his room. While coroner and fingerprint experts are at work over body, Captain Strawn summons Wickett for questioning.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER X

WITH UNHURRIED dignity the butler obeyed Captain Strawn's summons, but halted just before setting foot on the first of the two steps leading from the cement walk into the little summerhouse, his sad eyes involuntarily flinching away from further sight of the slim, rigid body laid out on the bench.

Strawn and Dundee descended the steps together. Strawn spoke, his voice curt but not unkind: "Wickett, does young Berkeley drive his own car?"

"The butler appeared startled. "Why, yes, sir. There are four cars, sir. The family limousine, Miss Clorinda's coupe, Mr. Dick's sports car—a two-passenger, that is; and the service truck."

"Thanks. Come here, Payne!" Strawn called to one of the group of uniformed policemen and plainclothes detectives awaiting orders a short distance away on the lawn. "Dash down to the garage and check up on the cars you find there. Should be four. I particularly want to know if a two-passenger sports car is missing."

"Get along Payne, and make it snappy!" Strawn ordered. "Now, Wickett, before I go into the house and notify the family that murder's been committed out here, I want you to answer a few questions. . . . First, do you know anything at all about this bad business?"

"No, sir," the butler answered, after the faintest hesitation. "Any suspicions, Wickett?" Strawn purred.

"I—no, sir!"

"WICKETT," Dundee interrupted, "I've already told Captain Strawn that you, as well as I, overheard Mr. Dick Berkeley urging Doris to meet him outside last night, after the family were in bed. You know, Wickett, that I am Mr. Dick's guest here, his friend, but at a time like this, everything we know must be told. I am sure you want to see poor little Doris avenged, and as speedily as possible."

"That I do, sir," the butler agreed huskily. "I did overhear quite by accident, the conversation you refer to, and I thought it my duty to speak to Doris when Mr. Dick had left her. It was in the back hall, sir," he explained to Strawn. "The poor child assured me she had no intention of keeping her promise to Mr. Dick. She said she had already arranged to meet Arnold for a stroll around the lake."

"Arnold, the chauffeur?" Strawn interrupted sharply.

"Yes, sir. They are—Doris and Arnold were engaged to be married, sir; had become engaged a few days ago," the butler explained. "I might add that we were all very much pleased, sir."

"Well! A new suspect and a new motive!" Strawn ejaculated. "Jealousy, eh?" and he raised his eyebrows triumphantly at Dundee.

The butler coughed deprecatingly. "If you'll pardon me, sir. . . . Thank you, sir. . . . The chauffeur and the limousine were required at about 11, sir, to drive Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Smith, Mrs. Berkeley's brother and sister-in-law, to their home in Westview."

"Westview, eh?" Strawn frowned. "That's about 15 miles from Hillcrest, Dundee. . . . Did you hear Arnold return, Wickett?"

"No, sir," the butler answered readily. "But I feel sure he did not make an effort to see Doris."

"Why?" Strawn snapped. "Because, sir, when he brought the car around to the front door I admitted him, and he asked me to give Doris a note, in which, as he told me, he had explained why he could not meet her last night. I intended to hand her the note, but my duties kept me constantly downstairs, and I placed it on a little table in the back hall. I knew she would find it there on her way to meet Arnold. If I did not have an opportunity to give it to her before."

"And you left the note there?"

"Yes, sir. In fact, sir, I am ashamed to confess that I forgot about it. It had been a heavy day, preparing for the big party which was planned for tonight."

"WELL, Wickett, get along with your story!" Strawn commanded, impatiently. "Did you see the girl again? After she told you she wasn't going to meet young Berkeley, I mean."

"No, sir. She said she was going up to her room, to write to her sister in England, about her engagement to Arnold, sir. She also said that Mrs. Berkeley had told her 'it was not necessary for her to wait up for either herself or Miss Clorinda.'"

"Did Mrs. Berkeley know of the date Doris had with Arnold?" Strawn asked.

"No, sir! Doris remarked that she hoped Mrs. Berkeley would not find it out," the butler answered.

"Why?" Strawn shot at him.

The butler flushed slightly and his eyelids flickered, but he did not answer.

"How did Mrs. Berkeley and Doris hit it off? Not so good, eh?" Strawn probed.

"Doris was an excellent lady's maid, sir—sweet-tempered and efficient," Wickett answered, that husky note of grief in his voice again.

"But Mrs. Berkeley—not so sweet-tempered, eh, Wickett?" Strawn dug at him relentlessly.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

HOLDING THE FORT

Holding the fort is one of the most important parts in any struggle. It is also one of the most discouraging. It takes more grace than winning the battle. We want to rush from one victory to another and, as Mrs. Willebrandt says, "We want quick results, but are not willing to take time to get wise results."

Those who have been in the conflict with the liquor traffic for the past fifty years have learned some profitable lessons, the greatest of which is that God is leading on and will never desert His army. We have won such a wonderful victory, have soared so high and have been so exultant that when we come down to every day, commonplace work it seems slow and uninteresting, but, like our boys coming home from the World War, we must readjust ourselves. We must realize the tenacity of our enemy, the dire need of holding the fort as well as moving on. This is no time to falter or rest by the wayside. Our enemy is not yet conquered. Our army must be kept intact, new recruits won and drilled ready for the next fray.

In times of peace volunteers come slowly, but they are the ones who come to learn and to help. They may be depended upon and will become the leaders like those in our last battle who stood quiet and firm, but with minds alert grasping the needs, and planning and arranging the work for all.

Many will come when there is an emergency to be met, when we stand on the firing line facing the enemy, flags flying, drums beating and we thank God that they do come, but too often we grow discouraged when we find many who want to stop as soon as the victory is won, those who are not willing to be drilled for future service.

They do not seem to understand that we cannot serve our country best by spasmodic efforts, but that it is the constant measuring up to duty that tests our loyalty. Good, true soldiers don't give up. They toil on when their work seems in vain. They struggle, sacrifice and serve when there is no reward in sight.

Like the mariner who charts the shifting shoals, calculates the changing winds, waves and tides, then takes the helm and sails forth with a clear eye on the star of the Northland that never changes. God grant that we may turn from the treacherous shoals of discouragement and head straight toward the Harbor of Truth and Righteousness.

We need only to take into consideration public sentiment and changing conditions in society, then keep our course true to the eternal verities of God, drawing from Him strength to stand in grandeur like the giant oak which holds firm amidst the fiercest tempest, then in the heat of the day shelters the weary traveler with its protecting arms, and gives to Mother Earth the acorns to reproduce more of its kind. We must hold unwavering fidelity to our mission. Our principles have out ridden the storm that comprostemmed the tide of persecution and mise dared not face.

Our organization in its untiring perseverance has been like the coral-producing animal, building slowly upward, toiling on in darkness through years of seemingly useless effort until at last it lifts its head

Our great work has been committed to, and is carried on by, women who have faith in God, who have a courage that knows no fear and a determination that knows no defeat. Sometimes the clouds hang low and dark, but as in the battle of 1928 our extremity becomes God's opportunity. Education seems a slow process, but our last victory proved it will bring results. We dare not halt. Hold the fort and recruits will come in God's good time.

PROTEST MODERN AGE

Jefferson, N. Y., —(UP)—Public-spirited citizens of this Schoharie county community are aroused because of the fact that only one mail delivery daily is made, whereas 30 years ago, there were three. What with automobiles and airplanes and other modern means of travel, one mail delivery a day is entirely inadequate and not up to the standard of these days, the village folk contend.
